

We are going to kick off our Summer PFPC Adult Bible Study and fellowship this month. We will be doing a self-study on the book of James.

Format: During each meeting, we will study a chapter from the book of James. Prior to that, we will ask you to read the chapter from your own Bible. We will assign several verses for your household to focus on and prepare a question or discussion topic to bring to the group. You can use any Biblical source you feel comfortable with. After our time of study, we will have some snacks and time for fellowship. We have met at individual's home this past study and would like to do so again...if the group is too large, we can move to the church.

Please reach out to Pete Adamson or Chris Christian with any questions you might have. We understand that summer is busy but please don't let a week of vacation stop you from joining us and learning together about James and his writings.

We have selected the following Thursday evenings @ 6:30...6/30, 7/14, 7/28, 8/18, 8/25. Please prayerfully consider joining us.

Once we have an idea on those wanting to participate, we will reach out directly to firm up plans. Please send Chris an email with your contact info.

Thanks,

Pete Adamson and Chris Christian
